BOYS' SHOES

This shoe is out of the ordinary run. It has been made to our own specification to supply the boy who is extra hard on shoes. It is particularly strong at the points where most of the wear comes. The soles are of heavy oak-tanned leather, the vamps are cut full length and have an extra row of stitching to prevent ripping; the counters are of sole leather in one piece and keep the shoe from running over. The uppers are of full stock box calf. This shoe looks stylish and will please your boy.

Kenneth Bailey, 1101 South Edith street, was pleasantly surprised at his home Tuesday evening by a number of his friends who gathered to celebrate his birthday. Refreshments were served.

Attorney Horton Moore of Las Cruces is in the city awaiting the arrival of Mrs. Moore, who is expected tomorrow morning. Mr. and Mrs. Moore are on their way to California, where they go for the benefit of Mr. Moore's health.

Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Rosenwald, who were in Europe the past year, returned to this city this noon, being met at the depot by relatives and friends. Sidney Rosenwald, the dry goods merchant, who went to New York to meet his parents, also returned to the city on today's limited train.

H. A. Broecker, ranch manager for the Socorro company, was in the city between trains this morning en route from Elmore to Santa Fe. He says that everything is doing at Elmore. More than sixty men are working there for the Socorro company building houses and digging irrigation ditches.

Glass show cases are now being manufactured in Albuquerque. Walter Hesseldehn, the contractor, being the manufacturer, at the Superior Planing mills. The cases, a number of which have been placed in local store rooms are said to compare favorably with those purchased in the east and shipped at a great expense of freight rates to this city.

At the close of the contest at the Elks' opera house skating rink that has been under way for the past few days, in which votes were cast for the best skater, Miss Dorothy Carlson last night won the contest with 728 votes, a fine pair of Winslow skates being the prize. The contest was spirited and caused quite a bit of good natured rivalry.

Temple Albert will open Friday evening at 7:45 o'clock. Rabbi Kaplan having returned from his recent visit to Denver. Through the effort of the Rabbi, the services of Miss Rose Abrahams of Pueblo, Colo., has been secured as organist. The young lady is a pupil of the New York College of Music, under Alexander Lambert, and is a talented pianist. Her addition to the ranks of local musicians will no doubt be a valuable acquisition.

John Hart, the contractor, today started work on the new Woman's club building, to be erected on their lots at the corner of Gold avenue and Sixth street. The building will be one of the handsomest club buildings in the territory, when completed, and will have a complete culinary and domestic science department, assembly room, lounging rooms, reception rooms, etc. It is expected to have the building ready for occupancy by the first of the new year. Spencer & Wallingford are the architects.

William V. Moody, the New York playwright, who has been in the city the past several days, left last night for New York. Mr. Moody, whose next play, "The Great Divide," will be produced at the Princess theater, New York, this season, was here selecting Indian appurtenances to accompany the stage settings of "The Great Divide," which is a play dealing with the great southwest and the Indians thereof.

GENTLEMEN—Order your suit now and be well dressed fair week. Two thousand fall samples to select from. Nettleton Tailoring Agency, 114 South Third street.

DR. BALDWIN. "Dr. Baldwin proved himself a master musician, and one competent to handle any repertoire however severe. The Pigeonssans from Tannhauser, while nothing new, was a revelation of technical pathos in the handling by this fine artist. A 'Romance,' Dr. Baldwin's own composition, is a veritable poem of tenderness and love."—Ashville Citizen.

Dr. Baldwin will be at the Presbyterian church on Thursday, September 6.
